SUPREME COURT.

APRIL TERM, A. D. 1859.

EDWARD B. HURD et al. }
 vs. }
 MELANCTHON BURR et al. }

The defendants in error respectfully submit :

1st. That the affidavit filed by defendants in the court below was insufficient and defective, and that by reason thereof, plaintiffs were entitled to judgment.

(A) The affidavit should have been made by defendants, or one of them : an attorney, as such, is not authorized to make the affidavit required by law.

Practice Act of 1853 relating to Cook County Court of Common Pleas.

Sections (33 and 14).

Bancroft v. Eastman, 3d Gil., 259.

Roosevelt v. Dale, 2d Cowen, 581.

Cunningham v Goelet, 4 Denio, 71.

(B) The statement in an affidavit of this nature that the affiant is informed and believes that the defendant has a substantial defense on the merits is not sufficient.

Briggs v. Briggs, 3 Johnson, 258.

Brown v. Corvell, 3 Doug., 452.

Adamson v. Wood, 5 Black., 448.

(C) The affidavit is defective, because in the alternative, and nothing is therein stated absolutely, and no indictment for perjury could be founded upon it.

Castle et al. v. Judson et al., 17 Ill., 383.

4 Black. Com., 137.

3 Greenleaf's Evidence, § 188.

Adamson v. Wood, 5 Black., 448.

2d. That although process was not served upon all the defendants, yet, as they appeared and pleaded, judgment could be rendered against them, notwithstanding, the court, on motion of the plaintiff, struck the plea from the files.

(A) The plea was not the appearance of the defendants. They must have been in court before they could file the plea. They appeared and then pleaded, and striking the plea from the files could not operate to strike their appearance from the docket. In order to file and defend their plea, they must have come under the jurisdiction of the court, and because they failed to make good the defense interposed, they cannot say they never interposed any. They have had the advantages of presenting a defense, and they cannot say that because their defense was stricken out as frivolous, that therefore, they themselves are not in court.

When a party appears and files a plea, he submits himself to the jurisdiction of the court, and is as completely subject to that jurisdiction as though he had been served with process.

The process is a means by which the law has provided that a plaintiff may coerce the appearance of a defendant. If a defendant comes without it, the plaintiff does not need it: and when a defendant does come into court, and the fact appears of record that he has been notified of the pending case, and answered the plaintiff's demand in any other way than by a plea to the jurisdiction of the court, he is subject to that jurisdiction for the purposes of that case, whether his answer made was good, bad or indifferent.

(B) It may be questioned whether or not the court was authorized under the laws of this State to strike the plea from the files.

The 3d and 14th sections of the act, relating to practice in the circuit and common pleas courts of Cook county, require that wherever a defendant in an action founded upon contract shall file a plea, he shall at the same time file an affidavit, setting forth that he has a good defense to the action on the merits. These sections also provide that in case no sufficient affidavit is filed as required by law, that the plaintiff shall be entitled to judgment.

The plea of defendants, as a plea, may be perfectly good; that it is not accompanied by an affidavit is no sufficient reason for striking it from the files as frivolous. But the plaintiff is entitled to his judgment, for the reason that the law provides, he shall have it if the affidavit is not filed. The failure to file the affidavit does not affect the plea, otherwise than that defendant shall not be allowed to try the issue joined. Judgment goes against him by default, and his default is in not filing his affidavit, not in failing to plead. The judgment is not a judgment of nil dicit.

If, then, the court should have stricken the plea from the files without authority so to do, the defendants were in court, and although the court below erred in so ordering the plea to be stricken from the files, this court will not reverse on that ground, for the reason that plaintiffs in error cannot complain of the erroneous decision as injurious to them.

And also on the said twentieth day of June in the year aforesaid the said Plaintiffs, by their said Attorneys, filed in the Office of the Clerk of said Court, their declaration in said cause, in words and figures as follows, to wit?

State of Illinois, ss. Cook County Court of Common Pleas Cook County) At the July Term in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty five.

Melancthon Burr, Charles Griffith and Giles White who are partners under the name and style of Burr, Griffith and White, Plaintiffs in this suit by Sprink & Weston their attorneys, complain of Edward B. Hurd, Joseph Periam, Edmund D. Beebe and George L. Ruckel who are partners under the firm name and style of Ruckel, Beebe & Co; defendants, who were summoned by me in a plea of Trespass on the case on promises. For that whereas the said Defendant herebefore to wit on the twenty first day of March in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty five at Birmingham, to wit, at Chicago, in said County of Cook made their certain promissory Note and then and there delivered the same to the said Plaintiffs, in and by which said Note, said defendant by the name, style and description of Ruckel, Beebe & Co, promised to pay to the Order of the said Plaintiffs, one day after the date thereof - one hundred and seventy one dollars and twenty three cents ($$171 \frac{23}{100}$) at the office of said Plaintiffs in New York for value received By means whereof and by force of the Statute in such case made and provided the said defendants became liable to pay said Plaintiffs said sum of money mentioned in said Note and being so liable, in consideration thereof, then and there undertook and promised to pay the same to the said Plaintiffs according to the tenor and effect true intent and meaning of said Note to wit at the place aforesaid. And whereas also the said Defendants afterwards to wit on the first day of April in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty five, to wit, at Chicago, in said County became and were indebted unto the Plaintiffs in a large sum of money, to wit. Two thousand dollars for money before that time lent and advanced to and paid laid out and expended for said defendants by said Plaintiffs at said defendants request, and for money before that time had and received by said defendants to and for the use of said Plaintiffs; and also in the like sum for goods wares and merchandize before that time sold and delivered by said Plaintiffs to said defendants at like special instance and request, and also in the like sum for the labor care and diligence of said Plaintiffs before that time done and performed by said Plaintiffs for said Defendants, and at the like instance and request of said Defendants, and being so indebted said defendants in consideration thereof, then and there undertook and promised to pay said Plaintiffs said last mentioned sum of money, when thereunto afterwards requested.

Yet the said defendants not regarding their said promises and undertakings but contriving for, altho' often requested so to do, have not paid said Plaintiffs either of said sums of money above mentioned, or any part thereof, but so to do have hitherto wholly neglected and refused, and still do neglect and refuse to the damage of said Plaintiffs of Two thousand dollars and therefore they bring this suit.

And now at this day come the said Plaintiffs by Frank & Winston their Attorneys and the said Defendants by Benjamin B. Gallup their Attorney also come, and on motion of said Plaintiffs Attorneys it is ordered that the plea of the said defendants be stricken from the files of this cause for the reason that the same is not supported by a sufficient Affidavit of Merits - And thereupon the said Defendants being three times solemnly severally called in open Court, come not, nor does any person for them or either of them but make default which is ordered to be taken and entered of record Wherefore the said Plaintiffs ought to have and recover of the said defendants their damages herein sustained by occasion of the premises and the Court after hearing the testimony adduced by said Plaintiffs being now fully advised in the premises awards said Plaintiffs damages to the sum of Eleven hundred and twenty five dollars
